

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am penning you this letter to offer my translation, localization and proofreading freelance services.

I am a native speaker of European Portuguese with exceptional writing skills and outstanding command of formal, colloquial, technical and literary linguistic nuance. My superior foreign language abilities (fluency in English and excellent understanding of written and spoken French, Spanish and Italian) and expertise in several disciplines of knowledge allow me to provide linguistic services in a plethora of subject matters.

Along with my extensive experience in translation (over 11 years), my professional/academic background includes: an Electronics Engineering Degree, Mechanical Engineering two year attendance, R&D activity (in Thermodynamics, Electronics, Energy and Environment), EU R&D project coordination and docent activity (Mathematics and Electronics). I am currently working on my M.Sc. thesis in Artificial Intelligence.

I am therefore particularly suited for the translation of technical content - a task where a deep understanding of subject matter is of paramount importance. It is when providing technical translation services that my in-depth theoretical knowledge in a comprehensive range of domains plays a major role, for it enables me to understand the underlying physical phenomena.

Moreover, I am an experienced software developer and have been in charge of the localization of several standalone software and control application GUIs and user manuals.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, please note that I do address subject matters other than of those of technical nature.

Please visit my website for further information:

<http://www.prolanz.com/>

Specialization (Fields)

<http://www.prolanz.com/en/Technical-Fields.aspx>

Linguistic Services Rates

<http://www.prolanz.com/en/Translation-Languages.aspx>

Major Projects/End Clients

<http://www.prolanz.com/en/Translation-Projects.aspx>

Short version of my CV (emphasis is given on linguistic background)

<http://www.prolanz.com/en/Downloads.aspx>

Please do let me know of both my eligibility and further queries.

I look forward to hearing from you!

Best Regards,
Rodrigo Magalhães